

LONDON FRYER FOR CAPITAL FISH & CHIPS!

SINCE they established the London Fryer on Seaway Road, Preston, Roy and Louise Abbot have increased their turnover six fold. It is hardly surprising when you bear in mind the soaring reputation they have earned for the quality of their food.

Fish & Chips

Fish and chips became a stock meal among the working classes in the United Kingdom. There is nothing more British than fish and chips. Freshly cooked, piping hot fish and chips, smothered in salt and soaked with vinegar, wrapped in newspaper and eaten out-of-doors on a cold and wet day - it simply cannot be beaten! To hear, when and where did this quintessentially British dish come about?

The potato is thought to have been brought to England from the New World in the 17th century. Both Lancashire and London stake a claim to being the first to invent this famous meal - chips were a cheap, staple food of the industrial north whilst fried fish was introduced in London's East End. In 1839 Charles Dickens referred to a "fried fish warehouse" in his novel, "Oliver Twist". The populace soon decided that putting fried fish and chips together was a very tasty combination and it has been our national dish of fish and chips!

Memory Lane visit
My two daughters worked for Roy & Louise Abbot 30 years ago and I decided to visit memory lane. I was not disappointed the fish and chips are as good today as they were 30 years ago. And to my surprise Roy is still behind the fryer frying fish and chips to order.
How many businesses have that sort of great reputation?

London Fryer

THE LONDON FRYER

The London Fryer opened April Fools Day 1982!

Roy has always been in the frying industry since a young teenager. It was when he met his wife, Louise, that they began their journey of opening their own business. Originally from London, the opportunity arose to purchase this chippy and create great memories with their family, staff and customers.

The London Fryer has been recommended by numerous local newspapers, local TV and radio and Roy has been nicknamed by one of the papers as "The Baron of the Batter."

Roy and Louise with their children are still working at the shop and one of their proudest moments was providing a service for a customer travelling on British Rail (over 100 meals) that were mostly fish and chips on a Saturday teatime as British Rail couldn't provide hot food but only sandwiches.

We thank all our customers for their continued support and welcome all new customers.
Please enjoy your meal as much as we enjoy serving you.

Gorgeous meal
Went here on the recommendation of our B & B hosts, there are plenty of other fish and chip establishments that were nearer but we were told this was the best and we could eat inside.

It was certainly worth it as the cod and chips were perfectly cooked, fresh, white cod and well cooked chips. Small seating area in the Valentine Day theme. Waitress service at the tables, very busy takeaway too. Slow walk back as we were stuffed!!

Always the family favourite
Absolutely love this place! When we visit our family I always insist we come here. We sit in, it's such a lovely atmosphere and the staff are so attentive. The food is amazing, I had the trio fish and chips cooked to perfection and of course bread and butter for the chip buttie. The chicken curry and chips are Delicious too. Highly recommend.
